From Principal's Desk

Dear School Community,
We're thrilled to share some exciting developments and initiatives aimed at enriching our students' educational experience in line with the National Education Policy (NEP). Our focus extends beyond academic knowledge to instil values and skills for life success. Here's a quick overview:

NALLAM VEENA MANKOTI

Principal - Edify World School, Attapur

- Value-Based Learning: We're implementing and expanding this inclusive approach, teaching virtues like honesty, kindness, and teamwork, fostering a lifelong guiding influence.
- Empathy Enrichment: Recent field trips have deepened our students' empathy, aligning with our values-driven education.
- Vocational Training: We're developing a program to broaden career horizons, giving students a richer perspective on their future paths.
- Multilingual Education: Adopting a multilingual approach equips students with valuable skills for future employment and leadership, backed by guidance and mentorship.

These endeavours will significantly enhance our students' holistic growth and future achievements.

STAR PERFORMERS

Theme Song on Zero Hunger

In a world so wide
There's a goal we chase
Zero hunger's the call, that rings so clear
Together we stand, with hope and cheer

No empty stomachs, no tears in eyes
Let's spread our wings and touch the skies
Zero hunger, a world so fair
No one is left, we all will share

From North to South East to West
Together we can be the best
Zero hunger our guiding star
Reaching out, no matter how far

No empty stomach, no tears in eyes
Let's spread our wings and touch the skies
Hand in hand let's make it real
A world of plenty, for all to heal

THIS MONTH IN IKS

National Sports Day: Building Skills, Unity, and Health through Sports!

In honor of National Sports Day on August 29th, the learners commemorated the birth anniversary of hockey legend Major Dhyan Chand Singh as Edify World School recognizes the multifaceted benefits of sports. We were proud to celebrate this day as we continued to instill important life lessons through sports.

Backward counting

Our IK-3 students are turning everyday activities into valuable learning experiences as they count and climb stairs, mastering backward counting effortlessly.

Table manners and Etiquettes

These fundamental social skills are essential for a child's lifelong development. Our IK-3 students acquired proper table etiquette, enabling them to express respect and gratitude during mealtime

THIS MONTH IN IKS

Cleanliness is next to Godliness

The significance of cleanliness was imparted to our IK-2 learners, who actively participated in cleaning their classroom and gained a newfound appreciation for cleanliness. Their efforts left the classrooms gleaming, instilling the values of both maintaining a clean environment and personal hygiene.

IK2's Supermarket Adventure: Real-Life Money Skills and Eco-Friendly Values!

Our IK-2 students created a lively classroom supermarket, honing their real-money transaction skills while having fun. Alongside these practical lessons, they also embraced eco-friendliness by learning about the importance of reducing plastic usage and opting for cloth bags – a valuable step toward responsible citizenship.

Teachers Day

Teachers Day celebrates the birth of the extraordinary Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan on September 5th, 1888. It reminds us of the profound impact teachers have, shaping us into responsible citizens and future leaders. Here's a snapshot of an IK-3 tiny tots who created a fingerprint card for their teacher.

A message from our Special Educator :

Supporting Diverse Learners and Spelling Tips

Every youngster is unique in their own way. I welcome and respond to the diverse needs of all young people and their families. Our school mission is to support each and every student in accessing and succeeding in the same curriculum, developing effective skills. We believe that we achieve more when we work together, and collaboration is essential to delivering effective bespoke support to every student. The school is committed to providing teaching and learning experiences that target each student's needs.

This month, my focus was on spelling words. Additionally, the students continue to practice their spelling words in various ways. Here are some tips you can use at home to help them with their spelling words:

How to Help a Child with Spelling?

1. Short Daily Drills: Spend 5–10 minutes a day reviewing spelling words. Practice test the night before the “real” test in the classroom.
2. Multi-Sensory Approach
 - Visual: Color-code patterns in words with a highlighter; write each word several times with different colored pencils; type the spelling words into the computer using a fun font.
 - Auditory: Practice spelling words aloud with rhythm, in a song, or say the letters of the words as the child writes them.
 - Tactile/Kinaesthetic: Snap, clap, or tap out the spelling of words; use clay or sand to spell the words; use beans or pasta to form the words and glue them onto paper.

Mnemonics: Use mnemonics to help remember spellings of difficult words (e.g., create a saying - "SAID" becomes "Sally Ate Iced Donuts" or mispronounce words - "Wed - nes - day").

- qu - q is a lonely letter that needs you.
- the - two heavy elephants.
- said - silly ants in dresses.
- because - big elephants can always understand small elephants.
- was - worms are slimy.

Happy learning! I will be back with more learning in the next newsletter.

"WHY DO KIDS LIE AND WHAT SHOULD I DO?"

Hi dear parents!

We are back with another special topic, and we invite you to join us on this incredible Odyssey as we navigate the sea of parenthood.

So, let's start by understanding why children lie and what you should do if your child lies.

The art of storytelling begins early, it seems, and it's all too common for children to weave their web of make-believe. But why do they do it? And what can we, as parents, learn from these little lies?

LET'S EXPLORE SOME REASONS WHY CHILDREN LIE:

- Lying could be due to fear of punishment.
- They may lie to do something they are not allowed to do.
- Lying might be an attempt to fit in with others.
- Sometimes, they lie for fun.
- They may lie to make someone happy or to avoid hurting others' feelings.

To better understand this, recall situations when you lied for a reason. Lying is an adaptive social strategy that we employ to navigate and control situations where telling the truth may not lead to a positive outcome. Providing unconditional love and acceptance to your child can reduce the inclination to lie.

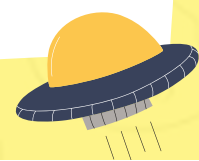

SO, WHAT SHOULD YOU DO?

- Firstly, let's be calm and change our mode from aggressive to affectionate to make the child comfortable, fostering open communication.
- Create an environment where your child feels at ease discussing their feelings and concerns.
- Praise, appreciate, and reward honesty, even if it means admitting to a mistake.
- Try to find and understand the root cause of why your child is lying and address the underlying issue.
- Be a role model of honesty in your own actions and interactions.
- Help them find better ways to deal with situations instead of lying.
- Finally, explain the consequences and discuss the importance of instilling values like honesty, integrity, and responsibility from a young age with them.

Understanding why children lie is a crucial step in effective parenting. It's essential to recognize that lying is a natural part of a child's development, often driven by curiosity, imagination, or fear. By fostering open communication, parents can guide their children toward a truthful and responsible future.

Wishing you success in your journey toward truthful parenting.

Catch you in the upcoming edition of "The Insights" with another intriguing subject.

Call Me the Queen of Caffeine

One of the world's most famous drink is COFFEE. After water coffee is the most burned through fluid coffee more than a refreshment is a memory, an expectation, a long period of unobtrusive joy woven in our lives. Coffee is a little red natural product delivered in the form of seeds from plants mostly in the size of a bush the transformation of these seeds into drinks is long and complex. Coffee's prosperity as a refreshment is because of the caffeine it harbours and to its tangible delight. Coffee lovers come to relate the empowering lift of the caffeine with the fragrance and complex taste of the refreshment.

Types of Coffee's

1. Arabica
2. Robusta
3. Excelsa
4. Liberica

Cultivation of coffee plants is usually done in large commercial operations. The Arabica species of coffee is cultivated mostly in Latin America while Robusta variety pre-dominates in Africa. Arabica is considering a milder more flavorful and aromatic brew than Robusta. Though Robusta it cheaper to produce, it has twice the caffeine content of Arabica & typically the bean of choice of many commercial coffee brands. Both are grown in India and Indonesia in small quantities. Climatic conditions are very important for coffee growth. The plants require a temperature in the vicinity of 20-28 Celsius & also require a rainfall of 60-70 inches along with 3-4 months of dry period.

Benefits:

- # Coffee helps in refreshes the mind and short-term memory.
- # It is really good for skin.
- # Lowers the risk of prostate cancer.
- # It lowers the risk of heart diseases by 20%.
- # Black coffee is used for weight reduction.
- # Coffee contains magnesium and potassium which helps the body to regulate insulin and maintain glucose levels.

Coffee In India

Coffee is majority grown in Kerala, Karnataka and Tamil Nādu followed by Andhra-Pradesh, Odisha and east coast of the county. Chikmanglore and Karnataka was the first place where coffee was grown during the British raj. Currently Chikmanglore and Coorg are the biggest contributors of the coffee production in India.

Coffee consumption is growing every year in India. In the current the total coffee distribution is around 7 million 60KG bags. This is 40% increase from the previous year. South India states consume around 78% of the total coffee produced in India. Italy, Germany and Russia are major export destination of India Coffee.

Facts about Coffee

- # Finland had most coffee consumption with 12kg consumed per person.
- # The first coffee drink dates back to 800 A.D
- # Coffee beans are technically seeds and we can eat coffee cherries as food.
- # Brazil produces 1/3 of worlds coffee, followed by Vietnam.
- # Worlds costliest coffee costs $1200 per KG and come from feces of Asian palm civet.
- # The largest coffee cup ever filled was a 9-foot-tall cup with 3487 gallons in 2012.

Coffee consumption is the first activity for many people early in the morning, or after a stressful day of work or to connect with friends in café. Since coffee is the second most consumed drink after water, it can be called Queen of caffeine.

PARENTS' PERSPECTIVE

I AM THE PARENT OF ATHARV AND ARADHI, IK3

"I am Jaya Loya, the mother of Atharv and Aradhi Loya, who are in IK3. As a parent, I believe that the school plays a vital role in shaping a child's future, and Edify World School, Attapur, is doing an amazing job with its student- and parent-friendly curriculum. The standards and commitments of the teachers, coordinators, and supporting staff are great. Adjustments are made as needed to meet the children's needs. It is always a pleasure to attend the school's programs. It's a treat to watch the kids perform in various activities. Seeing our kids go to school happily every day is a delight. Thank you 😊."

I AM THE PARENT OF NEEV AGARWAL, GRADE 1

"I am Bhavana, the parent of Neev Agarwal from Grade 1. I have noticed that different teaching methods and learning styles are used at Edify, making learning fun for my child. I have seen a lot of improvement in my child. The school provides many competitions and activities, which encourage children to participate and overcome their fears. I am excited to see my child grow more through Edify. The teachers, school staff, and coordinators have a caring and friendly nature."

Tips for Students to be successful in life

- Get Organized:-

Making a plan for what you're going to do and when you're going to do it will make sure you're always ahead.

- Don't multitask:-

Studies have shown that multitasking is physically impossible.

- Divide it up:-

Studying isn't fun to begin with, and forcing yourself through a study marathon will only make it worse. Dividing your work into manageable chunks and rewarding yourself when you finish each chunk will make studying (more) fun.

- Set a schedule:-

Do you work better right after school or after you've eaten dinner? Are you more productive in 90-minute blocks or half-hour spurts? Find a schedule that works for you, and stick to it.

- Take notes:-

Taking notes will not only keep you more engaged during class but will also help you narrow down what you need to study when exam time rolls around. It's much easier to reread your notes than to reread your entire textbook!

- Study:-

This one might be obvious, but did you know that there's a right and a wrong way to study? Review your material several days ahead of time, in small chunks, and in different manners (for example, write flashcards one day and take practice tests the next). In other words, don't cram.

- Manage your study space:-

Find a place that will maximize your productivity. Look for places away from the television and other distractions. Whether it's your local library or just the desk in your bedroom, set aside a study space that you'll want to spend time in.

- Find a study group:-

Sitting down with a group of people who are learning the same things as you is a great way to go over confusing class material or prepare for a big test. You can quiz each other, reteach material, and make sure that everyone is on the same page. After all, teaching someone else is the best way to learn.

- Set SMART Goals

In students' lives, the very first benefit of setting a goal is to achieve success in their academic life. It marks their first step towards success. Setting a smart goal is important for your future bright. S.M.A.R.T. goal stands for Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Relevant and Timely.

- Time Management

Be punctual always. Time Management is a must in a student's life. The purpose of time management is to enable them to do more and better work in less time. Always remember successful students or the students who want to be successful in life manage their time so that they can easily have time to study as well as to play.
